Notice of Editorial Transition

My three-year term as editor of Issues in Accounting Education will end in December 2012. Lori Holder-Webb of Western New England University will become the new editor. Lori has been published and cited extensively in Issues in Accounting Education. In addition, she has served as both an associate editor and editorial board member. She has also published in Behavioral Research In Accounting, Contemporary Accounting Research, Current Issues in Auditing, Journal of Business Ethics, and Review of Quantitative Finance and Accounting. Lori will be a tremendous asset to the journal and I look forward to seeing the products of her work.

Administratively, Lori will be responsible for manuscripts submitted after December 2012. I will continue my responsibility for manuscripts submitted before 2013 until their disposition. The manuscript submission site will remain at http://issues.allentrack.net.

Why use ProQuest business resources from your library?

Your library and ProQuest—providing the best business information available

Whether you are a student writing a paper, an instructor recommending classroom support, an entrepreneur contemplating a new venture, or a job seeker researching regional market conditions, you’ll be prepared with the resources you need—from ProQuest.

Databases like ProQuest Accounting & Tax, ABI/INFORM and ProQuest Entrepreneurship feature everything from e-books and annual reports, to education tools and market research reports. And tools like RSS feeds and email alerts keep the search going even when you’re not at the computer. All of that is available from your library, via remote access, putting you on the path to discovery, anywhere, anytime.

Get free and instant access to hundreds of online databases!
Sure, you can use the open web for research, but when you’re looking for authoritative and reliable content, online databases from ProQuest via your local library are your best starting point. Visit your library’s website to learn more.

“While I’m in school, I’m also looking for work.”

“Even from home, I can log on to get the information I need from renowned databases from ProQuest ... all it takes is a library card!”

“As a small business owner, I’m always seeking resources to help guide my plans.”
